

Dear Reader,

Welcome to the homepage of the Humanities/Social Sciences Division and the *Proceedings of the Joint Michigan-Ohio Canadian Studies Roundtable*. Held March 23, 2007, on the campus of Monroe County Community College, the JMOCSR was the first joint session of the two roundtables, both of which have long records of serving Canadian Studies interests in their respective states.

Please be sure to avail yourselves of the links to the Canadian Studies programs at Bowling Green State University and Michigan State University found in the *Proceedings*. There you will find details on the JMOCSR, previous roundtables, and dates and places for the 2008 meetings.

I would like to thank the planning committee, Christine Drennen, Nora Faires and Michael Unsworth, and on their behalf, our supporting institutions: the Canadian Consulate General, Detroit, the Canadian Studies Center at Bowling Green, the Canadian Studies Centre at Michigan State and Monroe County Community College. Special acknowledgements go to Dennis Moore of the Consulate, Timothy Rogus of the Quebec Government Office in Chicago, and Penny Dorcey-Naber and the excellent support staff at Monroe. Most important, we owe a debt of gratitude to the participants whose enthusiastic contributions made the 2007 JMOCSR a success.

Enjoy the *Proceedings*. Comments, suggestions and criticisms may be sent directly to me. See you in March at Albion College and in April at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Regards,
R. Bruce Way
Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences
Monroe County Community College
bway@monroeccc.edu

[2007 Joint Michigan-Ohio Canadian Studies Roundtable Proceedings
pdf file](#)