and when he was in, he was under an arrest and had been there ever since and has had his trial and was found that he was released. And I think that we all hope not of least most of us do all the men that are fond of drink the same as he did. He is around a man as they were in Toronto and as foolish as a man but he still drinks and has other bad habits. You'll tell them that when you left Canada. By the way didn't you where you left them? You're going to let me keep them on Sunday Morning and get here a hunt and drink and then we hadn't any place to go but you made our ideas when the ground and went to sleep and in the morning or toward morning found it raining like fun and some of the boys were not sure that they wouldn't stay and sleep all the while it ran a raining and it ran.
