Saturday, April 18th. Camp No. 42.

I have marched about 10 miles and am camped on a little creek, without a proper name, about 6 miles from General Bragg's seat of Pinchot County. My muskets through about 1000. This morning, General is situated on the creek or river as they call it here; it is a pleasant little creek and surrounded more pretty girls than any place I have had the good fortune to be for a long time. They say it has been a good number of men's to the war and though to make good soldiers for they have fine engines and pretty laces to fight for.

Sunday, April 19th. Camp 43. We marched 18 miles. Passed through Bragg's and got into the little village and are encamped half a mile south of it and Bragg's Creek. There is another 18 miles to cross the river back. The country here is well settled. The land is good through most of it is rather high and subject to drought. The great fault of the country. Tonight we have a clean camping around the fire for several days.

Monday, April 20th. Camp No. 44. Have come 15 miles over a good country and across several fine streams. Are camped.
