before the summer was ended. But the abolitionist politicians were afraid of his popularity and meant to crush him at the risk of the ruin of the country and the cost of the thousands of lives of those who have perished in the glorious but Terrible Battles which he has been compelled to fight at a disadvantage. History of East will hold them up to their deserved infamy.

I had a letter yesterday from Cynthia J. He. C. It seems has been quite unwell for some time. I had not heard from them in a long time. To say Mrs. Cook is married. Of course she has written to you all about it. I had a letter from John Wilson a
