as they are at toledo. Potatoes are selling for eight or ten cents per bushel. The people of this town seem to be a more industrious set of inhabitants than in most places. Taverns are scarce while in Indiana and almost every house is kept for tavern or grog shop. We are all well and doing well and average about thirty miles a day are expect to see the Mississippi by Thursday night. You must excuse the writing as ink is scarce and my desk is the provison box.

Yours respectfully,
Walter Dilly
