growing and propagation of nursery stock. Trees and shrubs grown here enjoy a singular immunity from the diseases to which they are subject in many other localities; so that it is no wonder that nursery stock from Monroe is shipped all over Michigan as well as neighboring states, and is found uniformly satisfactory.

Monroe wine, the product of her several large and well-conducted wineries, is favorably known throughout the United States. They are all conducted by energetic and experienced business men, who have the interests of our growing city at heart. From a residential point of view, Monroe has few parallels, while the real estate market is in a vigorous and healthy condition. Desirable residence property may be had at extremely reasonable figures, and on easy payments.

In all the broad peninsula of Michigan it were difficult to find a city which for beauty of situation; excels Monroe, while its public improvements and educational advantages are surpassed by none.
