

Privacy and Technology

Outline of Instruction

Course Information

Course Number	IAS 213
Potential Hours of Instruction	45
Total Credits	3

Description

This course prepares students to recognize, analyze, and manage privacy challenges created by technology. Both business and self-regulatory efforts will be reviewed.

Prerequisites

IAS 103 or CIS 216
CIS 130

Exit Learning Outcomes

Program Outcomes

- A. Demonstrate responsible computer use as it deals with social, political, legal and ethical issues in today's electronic society.
- B. Demonstrate knowledge of the profession, its organizations, goals and leadership roles, literature/publications, issues, and research foundations.
- C. Demonstrate foundation knowledge of information security/assurance within the organization
- D. Demonstrate knowledge of security objectives and policy development
- E. Demonstrate risk management, risk assessment, vulnerability assessment and take preventative measures against the threats.

Course Outcomes In order to evidence success in this course, the student will be able to:

- 1. Define the concept of privacy and summarize its importance in 21st century society.
- 2. Explain how technology can compromise personal privacy.
- 3. Explain and summarize key legislation affecting personal privacy
- 4. Describe public privacy legal protections and distinguish them from private legal protections
- 5. Explain and summarize employee privacy rights in the workplace
- 6. Develop strategies to protect his or her personal privacy as well as approaches to safeguard personal information from identity theft.
- 7. Assess and evaluate the needs of national security as it relates to the loss of privacy