Category A, economic development and business or industry partnerships
(i) The community college has active partnerships with local employers including hospitals and health care providers.	Area employers participate on academic program advisory committees and provide student clinical and field sites for occupational and non-credit training programs. Additionally, employers offer co-op and internship experiences for MCCC students. The college developed specific courses, certificates, and programs to meet direct needs as identified by business and industry. Examples include the NUET (Nuclear Engineering Technology) program and the Heavy Construction Management program developed in concert with DTE Energy. In addition, the College developed the Non-Destructive Testing Certificate and additional content for the Information Assurance and Security degree program in concert with area business and industry and local and regional labor market demand. Recent examples include the Practical to Registered Nursing program and the Agriculture program (in partnership with Michigan State University). In addition, the College totally revised the Early Childhood Education program. The program was awarded initial accreditation by the National Association for Education of Young Children (NAEYC) 2018, for the maximum period of seven years. The Graphic Design program introduced a number of additional stackable certifications in response to employer demand. More recently, MCCC has significantly expanded offerings in criminal justice/law enforcement and non-credit programming in drone technology and sterile processing. MCCC Health Science programs partner with numerous clinical agencies (hospitals, long-term care facilities, community-based and outpatient clinics) to provide students a realistic environment for student learning. Clinical and community partners serve on advisory committees for two major programs within the division, Nursing and Respiratory Therapy. Many
