ONLINE COURSE INFORMATION
Winter 2024 Semester

COURSE: PHIL 254 L2

INSTRUCTOR: J. Wisniewski

EMAIL: jwisniewski@monroeccc.edu

Introduction to Medical Ethics

There are many benefits of online courses at MCCC:
- Less restrictive scheduling
- Convenience
- Intensive self-study
- Course materials are accessible 24 hours a day 7 days a week

Some students struggle in an online format while other students excel. Students who excel in an online format are:
- Highly self-motivated
- Have strong computer skills
- Possess good time management skills
- Know how to study independently
- Possess good communication skills

Online classes at MCCC are NOT self-paced. Instruction is delivered in an entirely web-based format. Students must complete exams, assignments, etc. by specified due dates. Some exams and assignments may be required to be completed at an authorized location as established by the instructor.

When taking an online class students are responsible for:
- A reliable computer with Internet access and Microsoft Word; course specific software will be described below
- Knowing how to email attachments
- Maintaining his or her own computer and Internet connection; technical issues are NOT acceptable excuses for not keeping up with due dates
- Having access to a printer if needed for personal use of online materials

It is the student’s responsibility to log into Brightspace multiple times each week to keep up with communication, assignments and other coursework.

Brightspace

Online courses use Brightspace course management system as the means of communication between the students and the instructor.

It is the student’s responsibility to be able to log into Brightspace and maintain his or her computer setup to work properly with Brightspace.

The Brightspace Login can be found on the College’s webpage, www.monroeccc.edu.

Brightspace courses are made available to students on the day the course begins. Please see the Start Date below.

MCCC Student Email

It is essential that online students use their MCCC student email account. This will be the primary means of email communication between you and your instructor. For more information about activating your MCCC student email account, visit the college’s webpage at www.monroeccc.edu.

COURSE: This course presents an inquiry into the study and application of philosophical ethics as it pertains to the practice of medicine. Medical Ethics focuses on practical application of ethical concepts to issues that arise within health care, biomedical research, and public health, with an aim towards promoting and cultivating good medical practice and responsible moral decision-making as these relate to case-based clinical contexts. An assortment of moral theories and modes of moral decision-making will be examined and implemented in order to provide learners with the valuable experience of navigating for themselves current ongoing issues in health care and beyond. This course is reading intensive, and will include writing assignments. It also serves as a General Education Competency Satisfier.
DESCRIPTION

A primary goal of this course is to equip students with a sound working knowledge of some of the most influential and relied upon methods, theories, and techniques that have come out of moral philosophy and that are commonly employed within the field of Biomedical Ethics. Another one of this course’s goals is to help students learn how to communicate clearly and concisely when dealing with difficult, complex, and controversial issues. In this course students will be tasked with performing a number of close and careful readings of philosophical texts, to engage in effective critical thinking and moral decision-making as these apply to clinical cases, and to produce cogent and insightful pieces of argumentative writing that back-up and justify their selected positions.

Upon successful completion of this course, students will benefit from an informed, functional understanding of the field of Biomedical Ethics, obtain a firm grasp of some of the most frequently encountered philosophical terms and basic moral concepts that commonly appear throughout the discipline, as well as profit from increased aptitude for good critical thinking and ethical decision-making within the practice of medicine. A comprehensive list of general education learning objectives and course outcomes for this course can be found below.

The Course Outcome Summary can be found at https://www.monroeccc.edu/course-outcomes.

Students must register for the course through the College’s regular registration process.

If you are a first-time online student at MCC you must complete an online orientation course (ONL-001). You will be automatically enrolled into the online orientation course, which will provide you with critical information on the technical, study, reading and writing skills necessary to be a successful online student. This course will be listed in your MyCourses module in Brightspace and there will be 4 modules to complete. Please note that all four modules will NOT be visible when you first login, but will become visible once you complete the requirements for each module. Please complete WI2024-ONL-001-L1 by January 3, 2024. Failure to complete the online orientation by the above date may result in de-registration from your Winter 2024 online course.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: EXAMS OR ASSIGNMENTS

Some online classes require students to take exams at authorized, proctored locations. Test proctoring centers are authorized testing locations where a staff person administers a test or assignment. If students are not able to arrange transportation to MCCC’s main campus for testing, a proctored test site must be arranged. Students near the MCCC campus can take the test in the Testing Center. Additional information on the Testing Center can be found at https://www.monroeccc.edu/testing. It is the student’s responsibility to make arrangements for proctoring with his or her instructor. Students should also be aware that some testing sites have service fees, which are the responsibility of the student.

MCCC students completing online quizzes/tests or other assessment activities from home or other remote locations may be required to complete a room scan before the assessment activity. Students seeking an alternative to the pre-assessment room scan should contact MCCC Student Services at 734.384.4255 for more information regarding on-campus assessment options.
