Subject: Other

Location: HEB classroom 165

Witness: Adjunct Nursing Faculty

Victim: Monroe County Community College

Complainant: Dean of Health Sciences

Suspect: None at this time

Narrative:

Complainant: Dean of Health Sciences

Witness: Nursing Faculty

Missing Items: 3 Adult size CPR manikins with carrying bag

Replacement cost: $816.83

On Sept. 18th R/o was informed by the Dean that a nursing faculty member had reported 3 adult size CPR manikins along with the carrying bag were nowhere to be found.

The nursing faculty reported that she had be installing upgrade kits on a set of 4 manikins sometime during the week of September 7th. When she came back in the next day to finish the last remaining 4 manikins, she discovered a bag that should have held 4 manikins was now missing. While searching for the missing manikins she located one of the missing manikins wrapped in a white sheet/smock and stuffed into a travel carrying bag. This lone manikin now had the upgrade kit installed, but faculty member does not remember installing it. The 3 remaining upgrade kits were left in the classroom Rm 165.

The Dean and nursing faculty member searched the entire building with negative results. R/o also searched the building and the storage area behind the basketball court with negative results. R/o spoke with the nursing faculty member again on Sept. 24th in the class room in question. She related that she upgraded one set of 4 of the manikins roughly 2 weeks prior and after completing the set of 4 did not remember if she started on the next 4 or if she stopped for the evening. She then told R/o that she did in fact install the upgrade kit on one from the last set of 4, however she does not know how it ended up wrapped and stuffed into the travel bag. She also doesn't know where the bag with the remaining 3 manikins ended up. She then pointed out that she searched the cabinets, opening each one for R/o's benefit. In one of the cabinets R/o noted the replaced chest compression plates and the faculty member confirmed that those were the old compression plates stored after the upgrade kits were installed. R/o counted the old compression plates and only located 10. A total of 13 CPR manikins have been upgraded and there should have been 13 old manikin compression plates. She commented that possibly another instructor may have disposed of some of the old compression plates since she did some upgrades in early 2019. R/o spoke with the instructor in question via telephone. The instructor had no ideas regarding the missing manikins but she did confirm that there should have been a total of 16 adult CPR manikins. The number of adult manikins is now confirmed at 13 with 3 upgrade kits remaining. The upgrade kits had been sitting next to where the manikins are stored. No additional information regarding these missing manikins was provided.

R/o would note that the 3 missing manikins are discontinued items and the upgrade kits would have brought them into compliance with current testing/teaching practices. New replacement manikins are listed at $256 per manikin. The division Dean received a quote from Laerdal Medical Corporation for a total of $816.83 which included shipping.

Case Status: Pending any new leads
