Just the Facts

Want the skinny on MCCC? Here are some tidbits of info about who we are and what we do.

The Community's College

"In short, Monroe County Community College is your college, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen. You created it, you support it, you use it. That's why we're here, and that's why we operate with you in mind."

- Dr. Ronald Campbell, MCCC's First President

MCCC is a public, two-year institution supported by tax monies from Monroe County, educational funds from the state of Michigan and student tuition. The Monroe County Community College District was formed in 1964 by the electors of Monroe County. Back then, MCCC brought something to Monroe County that had not existed before – the opportunity to obtain a college education locally.

Since its founding, nearly everything has changed – the things that concern us, what we talk about, our lifestyles, styles in general, what makes headlines, what doesn't. Our place in time is moving so rapidly that we often don't stop to think about how far we have come and where we are headed. In viewing our journey so far – through all the changes – Monroe County Community College has remained a constant within the community, evolving with the times to adapt to changing needs and continuing a record of excellence and service.

High-quality Instruction at an Affordable Price

Tuition at MCCC is about a third of the cost of a public university and the lowest in the region for in-district students.

Transfer

MCCC has pre-approved transfer options to about 20 university partners, so students can go on to get that bachelor's degree. Two universities – Siena Heights University and Spring Arbor University – have locations right on MCCC's campus.

Sustainability

From recycling to energy conservation to solar power and more, MCCC is highly engaged in sustainable practices. Our official college color may be cardinal, but we sure do like to be green!

Supporting Your Academic Journey

At MCCC, our students receive high-quality instruction. Our full-time faculty members are well-respected and highly knowledgeable in their field. Nearly 95 percent have a master's degree or higher in what they teach, and more than one-fourth have doctoral degrees.

And, our faculty's true passion is teaching. They do not perform research while their courses are taught by graduate students, as can often be the case at big universities. MCCC faculty members are accessible and very responsive to student needs; they offer personal instruction in small classroom settings. In addition to all the one-on-one attention our students receive from their instructors, they enjoy the benefits of a full array of academic support services and resources.
